WELCOME TO ITAWAMBA COUNTY In the Heart of Appalachian Mississippi

The Itawamba County Development Council welcomes you to Itawamba County, Mississippi - a unique place nestled in the beautiful hills of northeastern Mississippi.

Itawamba County, Mississippi has a wonderful rich history and heritage. Founded in 1836 from the Mississippi Chickasaw Cession, the beautiful hills and valleys were primarily settled by hardy pioneers from the hill regions of other southern Appalachian states. This hardy independent pioneering spirit has survived for generations creating a unique place in Mississippi where a respect for the past is evident and a strong drive survives in meeting the demands of the future. A place where neighbor knows neighbor and a helping hand is always evident, Itawamba County, simply put, is hometown America.

COUNTY ATTRACTIONS

The Jamie Whitten Historical Center Complex

The center, designed by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers Mobile District, includes an interesting museum with exhibits created by several Federal agencies involved in the economic development of Mississippi's beautiful hill country.

Several of the exhibits are multi-media displays and many illustrate the rich history and heritage of this area. The historical center also includes a modern auditorium and a large covered terrace overlooking the beautiful waterway below. There is a gift shop area featuring regional books and other unique gift items. In addition to the museum there are picnic pavilions, nature trails, boat ramp, paved volley ball and basket ball courts and a large camping area.

The Natchez Trace Parkway

The 444-mile Natchez Trace Parkway commemorates an ancient trail used by animals and people that connected southern portions of the Mississippi River to salt licks in today's central Tennessee. During the 18th and 19th centuries, this ancient road was used by travelers on their journeys to and from Natchez to middle Tennessee. Today, visitors can experience this National Scenic Byway and All-American Road through driving, hiking, biking, horseback riding, and camping.

The Natchez Trace Parkway runs through northwestern Itawamba County and includes such local historic and scenic sites as Twenty Mile Overlook, Donnavan Slough and Pharr Mounds.

The Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway

The Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway is located in the Mobile District of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. It joins the Tennessee River in northeastern Mississippi with the old Tombigbee River near Amory in Monroe County. The waterway is 234 miles long and runs from Yellow Creek Port near Picwick Lake through the entire length of Itawamba County north to south to Demopolis, Alabama.

It has 10 lakes, made from 10 locks and dams that allow for a shorter navigational route from the interior United States to the Gulf of Mexico. This scenic waterway provides excellent opportunities for boating, fishing, picnicking, swimming and camping.

Midway Marina

Midway Marina is located on the beautiful Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway in Fulton. It is a full service marina that offers covered slips up to 70 feet. Liveaboards are accepted. Diesel and gas, Tenn-Tom charts and Tennessee River charts are for sale. The services include courtesy cars for transient boaters, laundromat, showers, free cable television, and free wireless internet access throughout the marina, free water, prop repair, boat lift, towing and pump out. There is unlimited space for transient boaters.

Also located in this facility are the society's general offices and the Gaither Spradling Research Library.

The library's holdings include more than 1,600 volumes of research material devoted not only to Itawamba County, but most all southern states as well. The library's collections also includes general history and general genealogical areas a large microform collection, archival materials and family history files.

Beans Ferry Pottery

427 Justice Road
Fulton
866-921-4746

Pottery has been a part of Itawamba County's heritage since the 1800s when at least a dozen pottery operations were in business. Today Beans Ferry Pottery continues this rich artistic tradition. Established in 1987 by Keith Carpenter, works from this studio are prized in collections. The studio has been featured in Southern Living magazine. He brings all of his talents and abilities as well as great passion in creating the work produced at his studio. Some of the finest stoneware wheel-thrown and hand-built pottery in the United States are found in this unique studio south of Fulton.

A Special Welcome

The Itawamba County Development Council would like to take this opportunity to welcome you to Itawamba County. Whether you are a visitor or new resident, we are happy to provide The Guide, your one-stop publication for everything Itawamba.

A place where neighbor knows neighbor and a helping hand is always evident, Itawamba County simply put, is the best of hometown America

Possessed with a strong work ethic, the citizens of this scenic unspoiled region in the beautiful hill country of northeastern Mississippi make this region an ideal place to visit, work and live. Located halfway between Memphis, Tennessee and Birmingham, Alabama, Itawamba County is a progressive and growing community.

Itawamba County is thousands of acres of unspoiled beauty. A pastoral heartland along the beautiful Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway, it is a place where its people are as diverse as its geography - from the majestic rugged hills in the eastern part of the county to the fertile rolling farmlands west of the Tombigbee, it is a special place we call home.

If we can be of assistance to you, please do not hesitate to contact us at 662-862-4571. We will be happy to supply answers to any question you may have. Also be sure to visit our website at www.itawamba.com.
